

Woodlands recipient of Coastal Stewardship Award

Woodlands Trail and Park began as a grassroots effort to increase community access to the river while uniting Orleans and Plaquemines Parish with a series of educational, recreational and historical greenways and trails.

On May 11, Woodlands Trail and Park's efforts in "Creating a Legacy" for future generations were honored by the Coalition to Restore Coastal Louisiana. Woodlands Trail and Park board members Katie Brasted, Carol Osborne Cowley and Paul Richard were present at a banquet held at the LSU Faculty Club in Baton Rouge to accept the Coastal Stewardship Award for "preserving, protecting and celebrating the natural beauty and cultural treasures within a 10,000-acre peninsula in the Metropolitan New Orleans area."

CRCL's Board Chairman Woody Crews presented this prestigious award, which came in the form of a hand-carved egret. Plaquemines Parish councilwoman Lynda Banta attended the event with Woodlands Trail and Park board members and guests. Woodlands Trail and Park's smart growth regional efforts have gained increased national attention during the past several months following the award for the 2006 Conservation Organization of the Year from the Louisiana Wildlife Federation and the National Wildlife Federation. The organization was also nominated for the Preserve America Award and has recently received notice of nomination for the Coastal America Award.

Coalition to Restore Coastal Louisiana
2007 Coastal Stewardship Award

Presented to

THE WOODLANDS TRAIL AND PARK

Woodlands recipient of Coastal Stewardship Award

Woodlands Trail and Park began as a grassroots effort to increase community access to the river while uniting Orleans and Plaquemines Parish with a series of educational, recreational and historical greenways and trails.

On May 11, Woodlands Trail and Park's efforts in "Creating a Legacy" for future generations were honored by the Coalition to Restore Coastal Louisiana. Woodlands Trail and Park board members Katie Brasted, Carol Osborne Cowley and Paul Richard were present at a banquet held at the LSU Faculty Club in Baton Rouge to accept the Coastal Stewardship Award for "preserving, protecting and celebrating the natural beauty and cultural treasures within a 10,000-acre peninsula in the Metropolitan New Orleans area."

CRCL's Board Chairman Woody Crews presented this prestigious award, which came in the form of a hand-carved egret. Plaquemines Parish councilwoman Lynda Banta attended the event with Woodlands Trail and Park board members and guests. Woodlands Trail and Park's smart growth regional efforts have gained increased national attention during the past several months following the award for the 2006 Conservation Organization of the Year from the Louisiana Wildlife Federation and the National Wildlife Federation. The organization was also nominated for the Preserve America Award and has recently received notice of nomination for the Coastal America Award.